

best advantage and blew the Germans out of the water.

"They could do this with us with our navy in its present form."

The long afternoon of debate was packed with plans as forcible and illustrations as concrete as Britten's.

The house listened. The house was stirred, and was brought into a mood to a degree seldom observed in that rambling body.

Some Plead Economy.

Heard amid the animation of the senate were the familiar sepulchral warnings about economy and about the bent back of the American taxpayer, staggering under his loads of candy and soda water and chewing gum.

Patrick Henry Drewry, like Britten, is one of the younger men of the house to whom the house will listen. It will listen because when he says things he puts a point on them, and they stick.

The National Candy Bill.

"Gentlemen, in this chamber," he said, "have made earnest pleas for economy in connection with this bill for the restoration of our navy. No man gives a more attentive ear, to valid pleas for economy than I do. But may I call the attention of these honorable members to the fact that what American tax payers spend annually on the American navy is one-third of what they spend annually on candy and soda water. [Laughter.]

"Yes, gentlemen, I am for economy, but I believe we ought earnestly to consider where economy should begin. What kind of economy should it be? Should it begin with national defense or with lollipops and lead drinks? Or should it begin with chewing gum?"

"I do not mention chewing gum at random. I mention it specifically because, gentlemen, about the amount we Americans spend on chewing gum is also about the amount we spend on our navy."

Insurance for Our Exports.

"Let me give these thirty gentlemen further figures.

"The annual total of our exports is eight billions of dollars. Our annual naval appropriations, including the sums which the bill would provide for naval rehabilitation, come to about 6 per cent of eight billions. Is this 6 per cent an extravagance when it is charged up, as it fairly can be charged, as insurance for the security of that immense commerce?"

"Naval expenditure reaches a total of 8 per cent of the national budget—8 per cent to insure our national and economic security. Is there any business man who would not spend 8 per cent for the security of his business?"

Butler Backs the Bill.

Some fascinating unwritten history, bearing on the diplomatic maneuvers of President Wilson at Versailles, was brought out by the venerable Thomas S. Butler (Rep., Pa.), chairman of the house committee on naval affairs and father of the pending bill, when he rose to speak. The old man—he is nearly 70—hails from the locale of Margaret Deland's "Old Chester Tales," and he is as saucy and quaint as Dr. Lavender or any other of Mrs. Deland's people.

He has been in congress nearly thirty years, and regards a member like Britten, who has only five congresses behind him, as rather a juvenile person. It is delightful to hear Butler address Britten as "Fred" when, amid this afternoon's exciting maneuvers, he has to summon Britten to his side for assistance in a quick move.

The house snickered every time it heard, "Now, Fred, you do" so and so.

Make 5-3 Reality.

Anyway, bent, spectacled and white haired, but lively as a cricket, the gentleman from Pennsylvania rose to give his emphatic to the contention that "it is absolutely essential that the United States go into the next armament limitation conference with our ratio 5-3."

VERA CRUZ, Mex., May 23.—(By the Associated Press.)—A telegram from Mexico City received here today states that Villahermosa was taken yesterday by Mexican federal forces and that 800 rebel troops which were defending it under command of Gen. Candido Aguilar and Salvador Alvarado were annihilated. With the taking of Villahermosa, the message added, the federal government considers that campaign in southeastern Mexico finished.

ment limitation conference with our ratio 5-3 a reality, instead of a mockery, for if we do not England or Japan will say that the 5-3 ratio is in excess of the needs of American commerce. To avoid that we must make the improvements provided for in this bill.

"To accomplish anything at the next armament conference we have got to have something in the pot."

To have a lot in the pot was precisely what President Wilson wanted at Versailles, according to Father Butler's bit of unwritten history, which seemed to indicate that Mr. Wilson was not altogether a lamb among the headline prime ministers of Europe.

Gave Wilson Cards to Play.

"When," said Mr. Butler, "President Wilson was at the Versailles conference, the naval committee then sitting received from him a cablegram demanding for America incomparably the best navy in the world. This demand was met with an appropriation of $400,000,000 for ships which Mr. Wilson never intended to build. The fact of the appropriation was sufficient. It gave Mr. Wilson cards to play at Versailles."

Hence Butler is earnestly for the construction of the smaller craft—scout cruisers and such—as provided for in the pending bill.

Predicts Conference.

"You men all know as well as I do," he said, "that another limitation conference is going to be called before another year passes. To do what? To limit what foreign powers in the previous conference refused to limit. Why did they refuse to? Because they had it and we didn't. Great Britain, said, 'We've got 400,000 tons of these ships (cruisers) building. The United States has none. Hence we would have to give up everything and the United States nothing.'"

"That is the reason there was no limitation on these smaller craft."

Representative Britten emphasized the immense gains to be anticipated from the expenditure of the $150,000,000 which the bill proposes to spread over a period of six years.

Would Give Us First Navy.

"I will say," he declared, "with all the confidence that it is possible for a man to have that if this bill could be enacted into law today and made effective on the high seas by tomorrow we would have the first navy in the world, and not the second, as we have today, and the figures instead of being 5-4-3, with the United States in second place, would be 5-4-3, with Great Britain in second place."

JACOB FRANKS HUNTS MEMORY FOR BOY SLAYER

over the syllables which described the manner in which his son had been killed.

"And since Robert knew them, I must know them. Whoever it was who kidnapped my boy, did so for the ransom. It was the money they were after. They knew his habits. They knew my love for him, and that I would willingly pay any sum to have him back. But Robert recognized them, and they grew afraid, and strangled him."

Again, there was no tremulousness as he lit a cigarette and puffed at it until it glowed. But the fingers of the hands folded in his lap stirred restlessly when he came upon the word "baby."

"They tell me I bear up under the strain very well," the low voice went on, "but they do not know."

"I know it will not help that baby any to keep brooding. I try to put things out of my mind, but they come back. My wife keeps showing me pictures of him. And I lie awake until dawn thinking about it all, thinking about that baby."

Always Considered a "Baby."

Robert was always "baby" to his father and mother. Like Joseph, the son of the Jacob in Genesis, 48 year old Jacob Franks' boy was the child of his old age. He was the favorite, like that other son whose father gave him a coat of many colors. The Franks boy whose body was found in the water of a ditch was always "baby."

"He didn't like it," said the modern Jacob whose son was not spared to be sold into slavery. "Don't you realize my age?" he would say to me."

He was his mother's favorite, too. She has been prostrated with grief. "She would tip toe into Robert's room three and four times a night," the father said. "He would not wake when she came in, but she would not be able to resist kissing him. Then he would rouse and throw his arms around his mother's neck and they would hug each other."

Wanted to be Near School.

Robert wanted to be a lawyer. His family remained at their home at 5052

Ellis avenue, instead of moving farther out, so that he and his brother, Jack, might complete their course at the Harvard school. Then they were going to Dartmouth university. The 17 year old sister, Josephine, was planning to go to Wellesley college.

"But I don't think her mother can bear to have her away from home now," Mr. Franks said.

The name of Freddy Greshmer, a brother of Mrs. Franks, was brought up. He had been mentioned during the investigation, but his brother-in-law denied any idea that he had any knowledge of the matter.

"He is a no account sort of a fellow," he declared, "but it is beyond belief that he would mix in anything like this. I saw him eight years ago for the last time, when he turned down an offer to help him out. But there never has been any bad blood between us. He never asked me for money, so I never refused him. His mother and my wife, who lives with us, leads from him every two weeks. I believe he is in Los Angeles and is doing well."

"It could not be he," the father said. "But it is some one I know. But I cannot think who."

"As far back as I can remember I have never made an enemy."

The 66 year old man turned back the pages of his life.

"I was born in New York, but my father, who was in the tailoring business, came to Chicago when I was about 4 or 5 years old. After grammar school I started in working at $2 a week. He smiled at the suggestion of being "a self-made man."

"I suppose you could say that," he admitted. "When the boys asked me for an increase in their allowances I always told them how hard I had to work to get what they got for nothing."

Pawnbroker Short Time.

Thirty-three years ago he became a pawnbroker. But he said that part of his life had been overemphasized. He was engaged in it only two years, he declared, before he left it to begin the manufacture of watches in Rockford under the name of Rockford Watch company. He still carries an octagonal timepiece made by his own company and bearing the letters of his name in steel of figures. But he left the business in 1914, already seeing ahead the slump that was bound to come.

"And then," he said, "I wanted to be home with my family more."

Since that time he has busied himself with his real estate holdings. It is through real estate—believing in the growth of Chicago, and anticipating it—that he has made most of his wealth.

"Recreation?" he smiled. "I tried golf once. But I like real estate better."

How he is connected with the nation of the Franks murder, attorney Crowe and Chief of Police Hughes refused to state, will develop in good time, they added mysteriously.

Under the release last Monday of Walter Wilson and Marshall Field, Harvard school instructor who were given their freedom on a habeas corpus, detectives were following several new leads at night.

One of them was furnished by C. G. Benson, conductor of a rooming house at 166 Eugene street, who reported that she had been beaten by a man fitting the description of George Johnson, writer of the letters which heralded Chicago's mystery.

Brown, brought before Judge P. F. Young the following day. Young had agreed to waive the twenty-four hours, while the investigation continued.

The judge fixed 4:30 p. m. as a time, and the scurry for evidence started. This included the quick search of the gardener, who, as George D. Chase, Wilson's boy, whom a gardener, named R. W. Fry, said he had seen searching the shrubbery near the Franks' disappearance.

Confronted by the gardener, Chase declared she had been seeking a cat—which, curiously enough, was named Wilson—and a street car a reward if he should find the cat.

Tells of Chasing Cat.

Mrs. Chase, when asked, said she lost a cat named "Wilson" a month ago, but denied being at the Harvard school on the date in question. Or, identified her, but Fry decided that he was mistaken on the date.

Another bit of checking done Monday to a report that Mrs. Chase and Wilson had been seen together at a street corner at a certain spot. Capt. William Schoemaker, of the police records and found "driver squad" from the Hyde station had pulled a box at the time and place mentioned. The officers said they were on that several minutes and could not see seeing Mrs. Chase or Wilson. Those details complete, the officers were again taken before Judge Young.

EX-COP SEIZED SECRET INQUIRY IN FRANKS CASE

Teachers Freed When Charge Is Made.

Thomas Gilroy, a discharged policeman, developed as a mysterious figure in the Robert Franks murder case when it became known last night that for the past four hours he has been in the police bureau cell.

Still recently Gilroy had been an office of St. Mayer, secretary of the department. He was dismissed following investigation made by a young woman who was sent out for Gilroy's name on Tuesday, and since then he had been incarcerated as a person guilty of "treatment."

Word's Discussed His Case.

COP SEIZED; SECRET INQUIRY IN FRANKS CASE

Teachers Freed When No Charge Is Made.

Thomas Gilfoyle, a discharged policeman, developed as a mysterious entry into the case of the Robert Franks shooting murder case when it became known late last night that for the last twenty-four hours he has been held in the police bureau cell.

Until recently Gilfoyle had served in the office of St. Mayor, secretary of the police department. He was summarily dismissed following investigation of charges made by a young woman.

Word was sent out for Gilfoyle's arrest on Tuesday, and since then he has been held incommunicado as part of a "preparing" treatment.

Won't Discuss His Case. How he is connected with the investigation of the Franks murder, State's Attorney Crowe and Chief of Detectives Hughes refused to state. That he develop in good time, they indicated mysteriously.

Undeterred by the release late yesterday of Walter Wilson and Mott K. Hubbell, Harvard school instructors who were given their freedom on writs of habeas corpus, detectives were busy showing several new leads at mid-night.

One of those was furnished by Mrs. G. D. Damon, conductor of a rooming house at 166 Eugene street, who reported that she had been beaten by a man fitting the description of George Johnson, "writer of the ransom letters which heralded Chicago's strangest mystery."

Watch Automobile Party. Another lead came from the police a city fire downstate. They telephoned to Chief Hughes that an automobile party similar to that seen by Mrs. Shackelford near the death spot was under surveillance. A request was immediately sent to hold the party pending an investigation.

Meanwhile detective squads spent the day rounding up drug addicts, in pursuance of the theory which is taking shape that only a dope fiend could have perpetrated the crime and attempted to cover it up with an elaborate array of telephone calls and delivery letters.

One person who is being particularly watched, it became known last night, is a former instructor at the Linden High school. He was dismissed after several pupils accused him.

That man wrote letters to a boy, while careful wording is compared to that of the ransom letter in the Franks case.

Teachers Are Released. The release of the two instructors came after a day of frantic attempts to obtain sufficient evidence on which to hold them. The petition for their release was filed Monday by Attorney Charles E. Wharton and Miss F. M. Young, brought before Judge Frederic Young the following day, both of whom had agreed to waive their bail for twenty-four hours, while the investigation continued.

The judge fixed 4:30 p. m. as a deadline and the hurry for evidence was on. This included the quizzing of George D. Chase, Wilson's landlady, whom a gardener, named Robert Crowe, said he had seen searching for the school about the time of the Franks' disappearance.

Confronted by the gardener, Mrs. Chase declared she had been seeking a cat—which, curiously enough, she said, was named Wilson—and she offered a reward if he should find it.

Tells of Chasing Cat. Mrs. Chase, when asked, said she had lost a cat named "Wilson" about a month ago, but denied being near Harvard school on the date in question. Or identified her, but it was decided that he was mistaken as to the date.

Another bit of checking done was in line with a report that Mrs. Chase and Wilson had been seen together on a street corner at a certain specified time. Capt. William Schoemaker sent the police records and found that a "river squad" from the Hyde Park station had pulled a box at the exact time and place mentioned. The police then said they were sent that corner several minutes and could not recall ever seeing Mrs. Chase or Wilson. Those details complete, the instructors were again taken before Judge De Young.

"I am requested by Chief Hughes and Mr. Grady to inform the court that more time is needed," State's Attorney Crowe began.

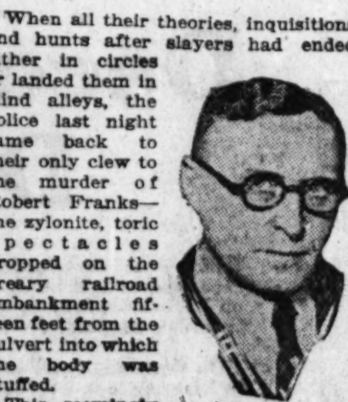

"You have had Wilson seven days,"

Try to See Franks Slayer Through His Spectacles

Michael Hughes, chief of detectives, is seen through his spectacles.

When all their theories, inquiries and hunts after slayers had ended either in circles or landed them in blind alleys, the police last night came back to their only clue of Robert Franks—the x-ray, or spectacles, which he wore.

The chief of detectives believes the solution of the baffling mystery lies in the ownership of the eyeglasses. "I am convinced," he said, "that if we can find the owner of those spectacles we will have the case cleared up in a few hours."

At the same time he pointed out the difficulty of this task in that the spectacles are not unusual, but a common prescription such as might have been purchased from any of a hundred opticians without the taking of any very definite or direct records as to the identity of the purchaser.

The chief continued: "We know that the lenses were not purchased by a laboring man or a man who is employed with his hands. They are the type which a scholarly person, one who reads a great deal or was under considerable eye strain would wear."

Not for Detective Eyes. "The lenses are not such as are ground to set right some defect in the sight. They are glasses ground simply to relieve strain or to stop headache from eye strain. The person who wore them can see just as well without them as with them; he or she wears them only at such periods when the eyes have been in use, to rest the eyes."

"I am told by expert oculists that they never sold such a pair of lenses as these to what we term a working man. Those who labor physically do not need such spectacles. In the first place, such men or women are seldom under enough of an eye strain to cause them to need such glasses; in the second place, such people throw off little nervous disorders which might affect their eyes a bit, cause headache from eye strain, or something of that sort."

"I am told it must have been a highly intellectual person who wore these glasses. A high strung, nervous temperament. Such a person would be likely to need such spectacles, and it is such a person we must look for."

Attorney Wharton said. "It is true we are holding them with no warrant," Mr. Crowe responded. "They are so held, because we think they can help us in clearing up this murder. Our investigation is not complete."

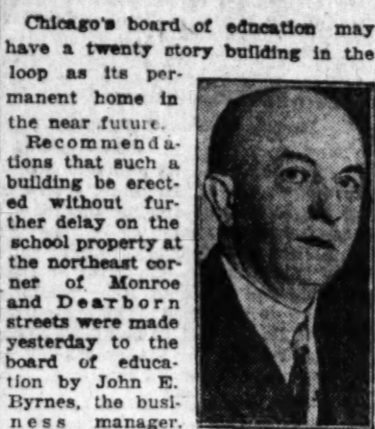

"I don't think anything need be said in view of what you have just heard," Attorney Glenn addressed the court. "Under the law there is only one thing I can do," Judge De Young observed. "There is no escape from it."

"You might continue the case," Mr. Crowe said. "The relations are dismissed," Judge De Young said, shaking his head. Mitchell's wife was waiting for him and both hurried from the criminal court building. Many of Wilson's college class mates were there to wish him well, to testify to his good character or anything else they could do for him. They and Mr. and Mrs. Chase escorted him to the street, where at the door a girl was selling poppies for the disabled soldiers.

"Give me one," Wilson said, handing her a handful of small change. Observers reported that detectives "told" the automobiles that whisked Wilson and Mitchell away.

SCHOOL BOARD MAY CONSTRUCT LOOP BUILDING

Plans a Skyscraper for Monroe and Dearborn.

Chicago's board of education may have a twenty story building in the loop as its permanent home in the near future.

Recommendations that such a building be erected without further delay on the school property at the northeast corner of Monroe and Dearborn streets were made yesterday to the board of education by John E. Byrnes, its business manager.

The matter was referred to the buildings and grounds and finance committee, which will start immediately as a joint committee to work out the necessary details.

The board has long recognized the necessity of housing its various departments under one roof to facilitate the transaction of business as well as other public business. At least five floors of the proposed building would be devoted to the board's needs and the remainder of the offices would be rented.

Would Degrade Income. At present the administrative, business and law departments of the board are in separate buildings, and as Mr. Byrnes pointed out, are paying approximately $250,000 a year for these unsatisfactory accommodations. He estimates that a net income of $400,000 could be derived from the space not used by the board in the proposed building. The total annual rental from the quarter block on which it is proposed to build is less than $95,000.

The proposed skyscraper would have a frontage of 195 feet on Dearborn street and 190 feet on Monroe street. Two buildings, the Tremont hotel (formerly the Saratoga hotel) and the Crilly building, occupy the site at present. They were built more than forty years ago.

It is estimated that the cost of the building would be approximately $6,000,000. The project under the school law could be financed by a bond issue. To this must be added the sum necessary to purchase the present leaseholds or to secure them through condemnation proceedings.

Will Quick School Survey. Survey of Chicago's school population with a view of relieving the congested school conditions is expected to go ahead at full speed with the arrival yesterday of Arthur L. Weeks, who will head Superintendent McAndrew's building staff. Mr. Weeks has been identified with building programs in Detroit, Syracuse, Rochester, and New York. His salary will be $1,000 a month, and his plan, it is hoped, will forecast school needs for ten years.

13 ALDERMEN BAT 100 IN ATTENDANCE AT COMMITTEE MEETINGS

Thirteen aldermen battled 100 per cent in committee meeting attendance during the six month period from Oct. 2, 1923, to March 31, 1924, according to City Clerk Al Gorman's report given the city council yesterday.

Those who attended every meeting of the various committees of which they are members are J. J. Connelley (1st), William McSweeney (8th), E. J. Kunsman (12th), P. F. Ryan (18th), Donald McKinlay (19th), Joseph Cepak (23d), Joseph Arvey (24th), George Self (35th), A. C. Solvers (36th), Wiley Mills (37th), P. J. Tomczak (39th), Arthur Albert (43d), and E. I. Frankhauser (49th).

Ald. Max Adamowski (38th), who missed but two of the 99 meetings of committees of which he is a member, and Ald. P. J. Line (48th), who attended 49 of 50 committee meetings, were given a rating of 98 per cent by the clerk. Ald. Christ Jensen (40th), missed but 1 of the 46 meetings and was given an 89 per cent rating, followed by Ald. John J. Toney (57th), with a rating of 87.7, and Ald. W. H. Pontow (60th), with 87.1.

Other aldermen credited with having attended more than 80 per cent of the meetings scheduled by committees of which they are members are Guy Guernsey (6th), R. A. Woodhull (7th), S. W. Govier (9th), Ernest Gross (10th), T. A. Hogan (11th), T. F. Moran (16th), Henry Fick (20th), D. A. Horan (21st), J. O. Kostner (23d), Joseph Mendel (26th), George Maypole (28th), A. J. Horan (29th), Stanley Adamkiewicz (31st), J. H. Smith (32d), Joseph Petlak (33d), Thomas Bowler (41st), Thomas O. Wallace (44th), Oscar Nelson (46th), and H. W. Kline (47th).

Notwithstanding these objectionable features, it is believed that Secretary Mellon will advise the President to sign the bill as representing an improvement over the present law.

President Coolidge already has indicated his intention to act on the bill without delay. There is a bare possibility that he may sign it tomorrow. In any event he is expected to affix his signature not later than Saturday.

Dates of Effect of New Features. If the bill is signed about the end of the week it will mean that many of the excise tax changes will become effective about the end of June. Different parts of the act become effective at different times, some sections immediately, others in thirty days, while others are effective as of Jan. 1, 1924.

Sections which become effective upon the enactment of the act include administrative changes, changes in estate tax rates, the repeal of the tax on soft drinks, and the repeal of miscellaneous excise taxes.

Excise tax changes which become effective thirty days after the enactment of the law include the repeal of the tax on admissions of fifty cents and less, the repeal of the tax on telegraph and telephone messages, the reduction and repeal of parts of the automobile taxes, the repeal of the tax on jewelry below certain amounts and the reduction in the stamp tax on grain and other product exchange transactions.

Coolidge May Get Tax Bill Today and Sign Tomorrow

Washington, D. C., May 28.—(Special.)—Treasury experts were engaged today in completing a report on the tax bill for submission to President Coolidge. Secretary Mellon went over the data assembled by the experts but did not send the report to the White House. It is expected that the bill with the treasury comments may be in the President's hand tomorrow.

Secretary Mellon will furnish the President with the latest estimates as to revenues for the fiscal years 1925 and 1926 under the new bill, together with estimates as to expenditures.

It is anticipated that the memorandum accompanying the bill will severely criticize certain features.

Expect Mellon to Acquiesce. Notwithstanding these objectionable features, it is believed that Secretary Mellon will advise the President to sign the bill as representing an improvement over the present law.

LA FOLLETTE'S CHALLENGE CAST AT OLD PARTIES

Also Rejects Communists to Lead Progressives.

Washington, D. C., May 28.—[Special.]—Senator Robert M. La Follette, from his easy chair in Atlantic City, authorized publication today of a letter which gives the infant Communist party in America one of the hardest blows it has ever received and reduces the third party convention scheduled to meet in St. Paul on June 17 to an unimportant political status.

As a mapping ball to his letter, however, after crushing the Red third party movement, Mr. La Follette makes what is regarded as a virtual announcement that he will head an independent Republican third ticket in November, calling for enlistment under the banner of all the progressives of the old parties who scorn "regularity" and will stand for the Wisconsin brand of reform.

La Follette Regains Health.
Such information has been trickling out of Atlantic City for weeks and those who have seen the Wisconsin senator recently say that he appears to have recovered his health and that Red horses could not drag him off the campaign platform this year, even though he should break under the strain as he did in 1912.

Mr. La Follette declares in his letter, which is addressed to Attorney General Herman L. Ekers of Wisconsin, that unless the major parties perform along progressive lines, that "effective means" will be found to give government back to the people.

He says Republicans and Democrats unmercifully. As it is certain that the Republican convention will toss the La Follette platform into the waste paper basket and the Democrats will probably be tangled in a racial and religious war, there is only one way out for Mr. La Follette, that is to be his own candidate for the presidency. The talk that he might get behind McAdoo is regarded as propaganda.

May Get Ball Vote.

In lining up beside Samuel Gompers in an uncompromising stand against the "boring in" tactics of the International Red, Mr. La Follette began his campaign in an unexpected and sensational manner. He will alienate, perhaps, some of that very northwest

ADAMS ARRIVES IN CLEVELAND; OPENS G. O. P. HEADQUARTERS

Cleveland, O., May 28.—Republican National headquarters were formally opened in Cleveland today with the arrival here of Chairman John T. Adams of the national committee. Others of Adams' staff will arrive soon and will remain through the convention opening June 10.

William M. Butler, manager of President Coolidge's campaign, will be here early next week and take personal charge of the executive's campaign. Miss Betsey Edwards, Indiana, manager of the women's division, is here and already has begun direction of women's work.

Chairman Adams said all members of the national committee will be here Monday or Tuesday and hearings on contests will be started Wednesday. The Republican platform will be built by the convention committee on resolutions. Chairman Adams said, and will be made in Cleveland. Preliminary work of gathering data by a policy and platform committee has been done. Ralph Williams, Oregon, vice-chairman of the national committee, is head of this committee. Williams will be in Cleveland Sunday.

support which has been given him in all the political charts. But there may be a reward in the shape of the railroad labor vote which Mr. McAdoo has been counting upon. There are hundreds of thousands of these men and only a handful, say 10,000 Reds, perhaps one-third of whom do not vote.

That part of the La Follette letter which deals with his own plans calls attention to the oil, Daugherty and other governmental scandals, and continues:

"The approaching Democratic and Republican conventions will demonstrate to the people whether either of these parties can and will purg itself of the evil influences which have long dominated them.

"Throw Out the Bosses."
"This can not be accomplished by merely nominating some alleged progressive and filling the platform with misleading promises. It demands the elimination of monopoly control, the downfall of the corrupt political bosses, the adoption of truly progressive principles and the repudiation of those great campaign contributors who have in the last bought up both parties.

"If this is not done, a long suffering and righteously indignant people will find in the coming campaign effective means, independent of both these old parties, to take back control of their government and make it truly representative."

No Sympathy for Reds.
Evidently anticipating that he would be called a "Red," or a bolshevik, or something equally vague and sinister, Mr. La Follette takes this occasion to declare himself entirely out of sympathy with the real "Red" or communist movement, and with all radical movements which have a revolutionary program. It is notice to his supporters to get away from the communist organizations.

Regarding the radical convention, the letter says:
"Nevertheless, in my judgment the June 17 convention will not command the support of farmers, the workers, or other progressives because they who have had charge of the arrangements for this convention have committed the fatal error of making the communists an integral part of their organization."

"The communists have admittedly entered into this political movement not for the purpose of curing, by means of ballot, the evils which afflict the American people, but only to divide and confuse the progressive movement and create a condition of chaos favorable to their ultimate aims."

Point Toward Revolution.
"Their real purpose is to establish by revolutionary action a dictatorship of the proletariat, which is absolutely repugnant to democratic ideals and to all American aspirations. The official declarations of the Workers party show clearly that they are seeking to use the Farmer-Labor party of Minnesota and other progressive organizations that have lent their names to this convention as a means of advancing their own ends."

This is shown by an official statement of the central executive committee of the Workers party of America as follows:
"[Printed in the Daily Worker, the official organ of the Workers party, March 31, 1924.]

"The policy which we adopt in Minnesota will be a precedent for the whole party in relation to the national Farmer-Labor party when that organization is finally crystallized. It is therefore important that we adopt the correct communist policy in Minnesota as a guide to our whole party for its work inside of the Farmer-Labor party throughout the country."

Would Establish Soviet.
"The Workers party prides itself in being a communist party; that means that it considers its work to build up and lead the forces which will bring about a proletarian revolution in the United States and establish a soviet form of government and the dictatorship of the proletariat."

"Central Executive Committee."
"C. E. Ruthenberg, Secretary."
Plans for the third party ticket to be headed by the senator are practically ready now. Thousands of petitions are being sent out from the headquarters of the "La Follette for President" group in Chicago, asking him to lead the progressive movement in this campaign. These petitions will be signed by a great number of voters in the west and northwest and in the industrial centers of the east and will be presented to the senator when he will make his formal announcement as a candidate.

It is expected that Mr. La Follette will be able to make this declaration almost immediately after the Democratic convention. Plans for his campaign include the naming of the independent electoral tickets in all states where those tickets can be placed upon the official ballots by petition and this includes nearly all the states.

No La Follette Convention.
There is to be no convention, no attempt to form a permanent party organization, but simply the presentation of Senator La Follette as an independent Republican candidate, standing on a platform of his own making. It is the claim of the La Follette supporters that they can carry at least seven western states; and that his vote in states that he cannot carry will be sufficiently large to upset the calculations of the old parties. It gives the political situation a distinct atmosphere of uncertainty, as it is said to be the real aim of La Follette to throw the election of President into the house of representatives by preventing either President Coolidge or the Democratic nominee from getting a majority of votes in the electoral college.

The La Follette forces in the house now hold the balance of power and they would be able to dictate the name of the next President.

Convention Plans Unchanged.
St. Paul, Minn., May 28.—There will be no change in the present plans for the national farmer-labor progressive convention in St. Paul, June 17, despite Senator La Follette's statement, William Mahoney, St. Paul labor leader and tentative choice for temporary chairman of the convention, declared the convention will be held as scheduled, and "in all probability will be a small fraction of the third party candidate for President."

"Communists," Mr. Mahoney said, "will constitute only a small fraction of the delegates at the convention, and as long as they are willing to submit to the terms of the coalition, their cooperation is acceptable."

Won't Attend Convention.
Madison, Wis., May 28.—Miss Ada L. James, Richland Center, Wis., recently elected delegate by the Wisconsin Conference of Progressive Political Action to the St. Paul convention June 17, said to The Associated Press today, that she will be governed by Senator La Follette's request and will not attend the convention.

Desires St. Paul Convention.
New York, May 28.—The committee of forty-eight and its affiliated bodies, through J. A. H. Hopkins, chairman of the committee and member of the arrangements committee of the St. Paul June 17 convention, tonight withdrew from participation in the St. Paul meeting and urged all other organizations to do the same. The committee pledged its support to nominate Senator La Follette for the presidency at a meeting in Cleveland on July 4.

RADICALS STRIKE BACK
Senator Robert M. La Follette's denunciation of communism yesterday with his threat to be an independent candidate for President if the two old parties refuse to purge themselves of the evil influences which have long dominated them, brought a quick report from the Reds.

William Z. Foster and C. E. Ruthenberg, communist leaders and controlling officials of the Workers' Party of America, branded the Wisconsin senator as "the enemy of the Farmer-Labor movement and the representative of small business men."

"Stands with Reactionaries."
"Senator La Follette has come out in the open as the enemy of the Farmer-Labor movement," says the lengthy Foster-Ruthenberg manifesto, which has as its slogan "stand fast for the Farmer-Labor party." In other words, Foster and Ruthenberg say, "La Follette raises the issue of the Red menace in the same manner that the reactionary Republicans raise it against the Farmer-Labor movement. Coolidge, Lodge, and La Follette take their stand shoulder to shoulder against this 'menace!'"

"The truth of the matter is that La Follette does not represent the exploited farmers and industrial workers. There is nothing in his program which stands for their interests."

POLICE SEEK DENVER GIRL.
Chicago police were asked last night to search for Miss Margaret O'Day, formerly of Denver, whose father died in that city last Monday.

Wittbold's Memorial Wreaths and Sprays

at 70 East Madison Street

It is an ideal and rule of this establishment that only first quality flowers—newly cut—may be used in the making of any design or token.

In addition, each floral offering from Wittbold's is an individual creation.

And in point of cost beautiful Wreaths and Sprays range upwards from $5. Other pieces in proportion.

Added to which there is the satisfaction of dealing with Chicago's most conveniently located, most up-to-the-minute flower shop.

Daily deliveries throughout Chicago and suburbs—telegraph service to all other cities.

BRITISH COURT CALLS RAY MAN TO LONDON

Order Served on Him at Midnight in Paris.

BY HENRY WALES.
[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
PARIS, May 28.—The long arm of British law grabbed Grindell Matthews, the inventor of the death ray, at midnight tonight when the representative of a London firm, Johnson Sansome, served the writ with a writ issued from the bench division ordering him to appear in London to answer why the ray should leave England. The London firm claims fifty-two percent interest in the ray invention.

The writ was served in a small hotel where Mr. Matthews was conferring with his lawyer, Col. Edwards. Matthews felt sure he would make a satisfactory explanation as to his recent activities.

LEAGUE DEMANDS RAY
[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
PARIS, May 28.—The league of nations today demanded the secret of the death ray. The spokesman of the Geneva organization says that members of the league which accept the secret ray are pledged by the league to impart it to the league for distribution among the other members.

League officials insist that article 17 of the covenant, and especially the last paragraph, provides specifically for the frank exchange of information concerning inventions applicable to warfare.

The paragraph reads: "Members of the league undertake to interchange and frankly inform as to the results of their researches in the military, naval and air programs and the conditions of such of their industries as are applicable to warlike purposes."

Article nineteen also is considered directly to affect the affair of the death ray.

The assembly from time to time advise reconsideration of the ray which may become inapplicable and give consideration to international conditions the continuance of which might endanger the peace of the world.

It is the claim of the league and the demand of pledges are accepted, the ray nations who could purchase the ray and keep it as the United States, Germany and Russia among the large states.

Signs a Contract.
Mr. Matthews today signed a contract with M. Rorer from Lyons of the firm Rorer du Rhone whereby the inventor gives the French company 25 percent interest in return for capital invested in laboratories and experimental costs.

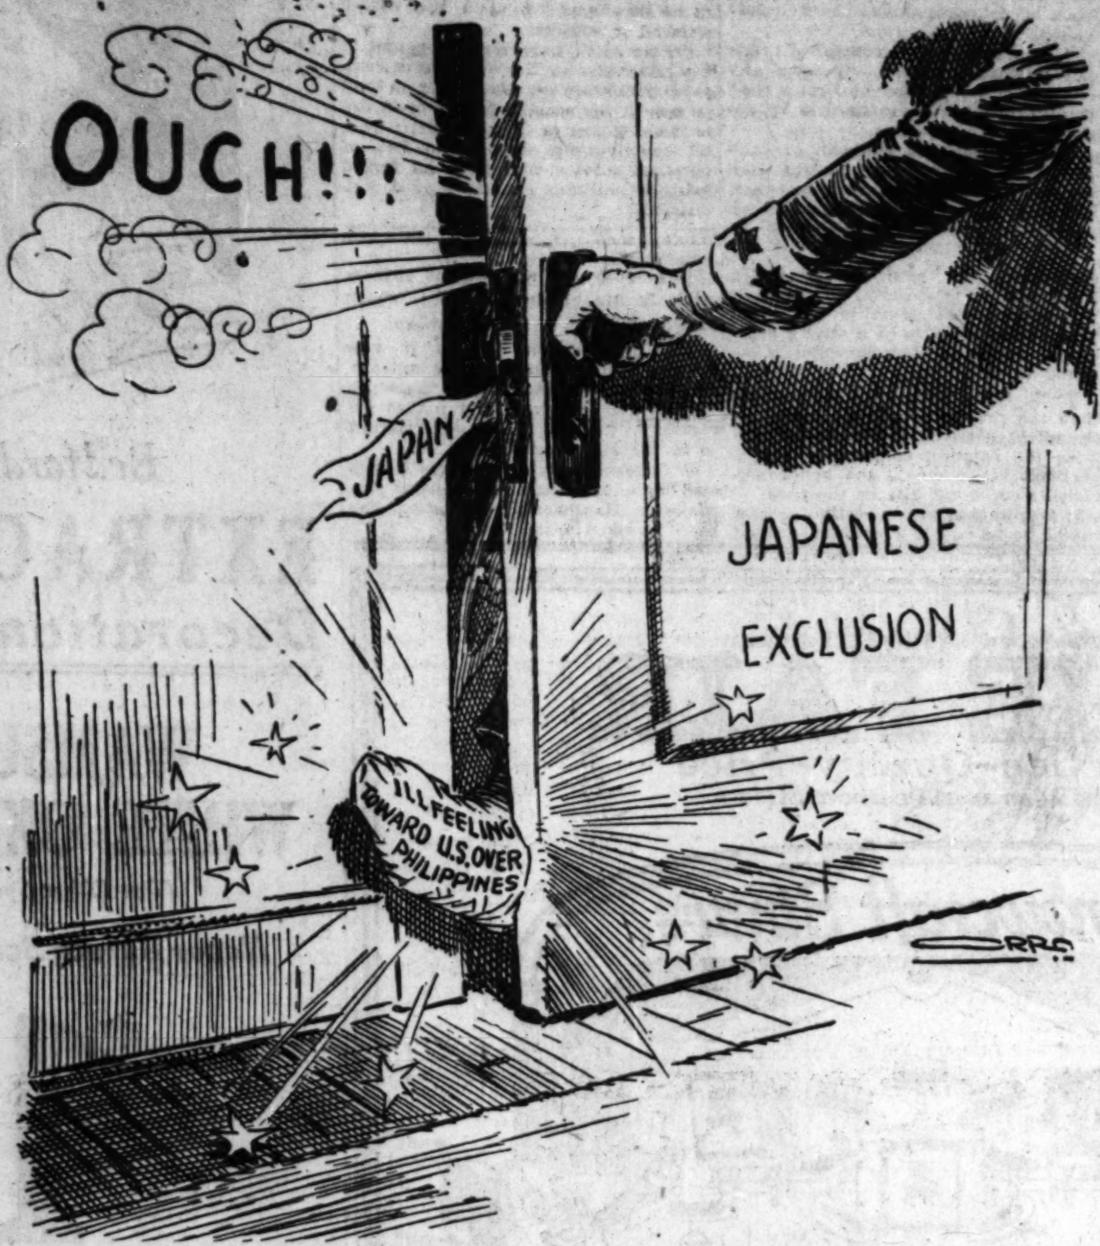

"America is virtually out of the ray," Mr. Matthews said. "I did not read the thoroughly written offer made to me by the American government agents in London. I wish to say, however, that the ray will not be sold to anybody except England and France."

AMERICAN ARMY OFFERED DEATH RAY, HE ASSERTS

New York, May 28.—The American army has been offered a method of producing invisible rays capable of stopping airplanes in midair and automobiles. It was asserted today by John H. Hamill, an English engineer, who said he represented a great German scientist. Hamill said this scientist used the rays and caused French airplanes to descend over Bavaria last year.

Offers had been made to show the army officers how the ray would disable the magnet attached to an internal combustion engine, but the officers, like those in England and France, were too slow, Hamill asserted. "Of course, the fundamental work was done by Nicola Tesla about thirty years ago in Colorado," Hamill said. He built a powerful electrical coil. It was found that the dynamo and other electrical apparatus of the Colorado Fuel company within 100 yards or so were all put out of business. His coil scatters rays which short circuit electrical apparatus at close range. They are working in electrical laboratories all over the world on methods of stepping up the Tesla coil so as to produce its effects at a distance. Working on an entirely different principle, however, the German scientist has succeeded in projecting and directing electrical power so as to produce the effects of which I speak."

CHICAGO BANKER NOMINATED FOR TREASURY POST

Washington, D. C., May 28.—[Special.]—President Coolidge sent to the senate today the nomination of Charles S. Dewey as assistant secretary of the treasury. Mr. Dewey is vice president of the Northern Trust Company of Illinois.

Fiscal bureau of the treasury will be under Mr. Dewey's immediate supervision. These include the bureau having to do with the public debt, engraving and printing, the mint and the secret service.

Garrard Winston of Chicago, now under secretary of the treasury, formerly was assistant secretary in charge of fiscal bureau. The place has been vacant since Mr. Winston succeeded to the office formerly held by S. Parker Gilbert.

Mr. Dewey is a graduate of Yale, 1904, and married Miss Suetelle Hall of New York in 1905. They have been leaders in Chicago and Lake Forest society ever since. They have just finished the reconstruction of a town house in North State street and have a fine Georgian house for residence in Lake Forest. Mr. Dewey is a son of Albert B. Dewey and a relative of the late George Dewey, admiral and hero of the battle of Manila.

EX-ACCOUNTANT HELD FOR TREASURY
Venetia Bert Hancock, former accountant for the Northwest Side Lumber company, was held to the grand jury yesterday for absconding with $7,200 of the firm's money. He surrendered Tuesday.

Your itching skin is but a symptom

Below the surface is the irritation this simple treatment reaches

FIFTEEN minutes, perhaps less, and that maddening itch will be relieved. Yet this startling fact—in itself one of the most remarkable qualities of Resinol—is but an indication of its real healing properties.

Deep down beneath the irritation, where many aives and remedies fail even to reach, lies the real cause of that rash, eczema or other skin disorder. The most strenuous treatment, if only surface treatment, is often ineffective.

To reach these deep-seated causes of irritation—to cleanse the pores, kill germs, and start the skin again acting normally—physicians have for twenty-eight years been prescribing Resinol Ointment.

If you have today any spot, rash or irritation on your skin, apply Resinol. Spread a coating on the affected surface and smooth it in very gently with the fingers. One application will, in many cases, stop the itching completely. Resinol is absolutely harmless. It will not irritate the delicate texture of an infant's skin, or even raw exposed flesh. It does not deteriorate or lose its effectiveness with time.

Get a jar of this soothing, healing ointment at your drug-gist's today, or send for a free trial sample to Dept. 27, Resinol, Baltimore, Md.

CRASH IN DITCH, COLLISION SEND 2 MEN TO DEATH

County's Speed Toll Is Raised to 231.

With the death yesterday of two men, victims of automobile accidents, the motor death toll for Cook county since Jan. 1 rose to a total of 231.

Gilbert Harvey, 6 years old, 243 Greenwald avenue, was killed in a collision with a car near Worth, Ill., when the car was driving on the St. Francis hospital, Blue Island. An inquest will be held today.

James A. Mahon, 679 Sheridan road, chauffeur, was severely injured yesterday when the automobile he was driving crashed into a horse drawn vehicle near Michigan avenue and 18th street. Pipes which extended from the rear of the truck pierced the windshield of Mahon's car and pinned him to his seat.

An aged woman, struck on Tuesday by an automobile, was identified at the county hospital yesterday as Mrs. Lotie Creman, 239 West 29th street. She is still in a critical condition, physicians said.

Fined for Lack of Brains.
A motorist who passes a street car on the left side "hasn't enough brains to drive a car," declared Judge A. G. Adams in Speders' court yesterday. He fined William Mack, 2016 North 73d court, $35 and costs.

SCALDS FATAL TO BABY.
Two year old Werner H. Schroeder, 1294 North Harding avenue, who pulled a kettle of boiling water upon himself Tuesday night, died of burns yesterday.

HANDS OF DEATH

The hands of the clock indicate the number of deaths by autos, guns, and moonshine in Cook county since Jan. 1 last.

Black Eye Just a Joke, Young Bride Tells Judge

Mrs. Stella Gallagher of 1614 Culbertson street, a 24 year old bride, appeared in Maxwell street court yesterday and protested that the black eye which her husband was accused of giving her was all a mistake. "Just a little prank played on us by the wedding guests," she explained smiling. Judge Burke discharged the bridegroom.

Announcement also was made today that the emperor would grant a special audience to the American couple next Monday.

U. S. AWAITS TOKIO NOTE

Washington, D. C., May 28.—[Special.]—Tokio's formal protest against the exclusion features of the immigration bill had not been delivered to the state department up to a late hour this evening, though it was understood to be in the process of decoding at the Japanese embassy.

In the absence of the text, neither the White House nor the state department would comment on the statement attributed to the Japanese foreign office and cabled in press dispatches from Tokyo, in which the "unshaken" opposition of the government against the "discriminatory legislation" was announced.

In view of the strong tone of this statement, the accuracy of which there was no disposition to doubt, it was expected the formal protest would prove to be likewise of a strong character. Japanese embassy officials declined to talk.

While there have been suggestions that the protest would be based on the allegation that the exclusion violates the existing commercial treaty particularly article 1, the belief prevailed such would not be the case.

It was rather expected the protest would be on a much broader ground of discrimination against the citizens of a highly civilized nation, which ranks with other leading powers.

The immigration bill as it now stands, officials contend, does not violate the treaty, since it has to do primarily with laborers, and makes exception in favor of the classes referred to in the above article.

In Japanese official quarters it was still contended that no request for Ambassador Hanhara's resignation has been received from Tokyo.

Treaty Clause Japan Claims Is Violated

Washington, D. C., May 28.—[Special.]—Article 1 of the commercial treaty between America and Japan, which it is believed Tokyo in its protest claims is violated by the new immigration law excluding Japanese, follows:

"The citizens or subjects of each of the high contracting parties shall have the liberty to enter, travel, and reside in the territories of the other to carry on trade wholesale and retail, to own or lease and occupy houses, manufactures, warehouses and shops, to employ agents of their choice, to lease land for residential and commercial purposes and generally to do anything incident to or necessary for trade upon the same terms as native citizens or subjects, submitting themselves to the laws and regulations there established."

"They shall not be compelled under any pretext whatever, to pay any charges or taxes other or higher than those that are or may be paid by native citizens or subjects."

"The citizens or subjects of each of the high contracting parties shall receive, in the territories of the other, the most constant protection and security for their persons and property, and shall enjoy in this respect the same rights and privileges as are or may be granted to native citizens or subjects, on submitting themselves to the conditions imposed upon the native citizens or subjects."

"They shall, however, be exempt in the territories of the other from compulsory military service, either on land or sea, in the regular forces, or in the national guard or in the militia; from all contributions imposed in lieu of personal service, and from all forced loans or military exactions or contributions."

statement, the accuracy of which there was no disposition to doubt, it was expected the formal protest would prove to be likewise of a strong character. Japanese embassy officials declined to talk.

Cleveland, O., May 28.—[Associated Press.]—The trial of William M. Brown, who is court of Protestant Episcopal charges of teaching tenet beyond the technical stage. At one point it had progressed that Charles Dibble of K. M. church advocate, had brief opening statement of expected to show in the way money. But before he could first witness the court recessed and after that into a temporary indisposition of defendant, then a fresh testimony by his attorney progress.

Earlier in the day three more a demurrer by the defense overruled.

Tonight the case is a waiting of a motion for indefinite continuance based on the defendant's collected testimony from all the church.

At the start of the afternoon Joseph W. Sharts, Dayton, for the bishop, announced that he had suffered reaction from the trial, and a two hours recess.

Bishop Brown had recovered sufficiently to attend court, was convened and his counsel presented a motion for indefinite continuance.

Alleges Handicap for De
This recited that a request made on Bishop Murray of president of the court, a motion for the trial began, for the appointment of commissioners to take de from defense witnesses for whom had been issued subpoenas had been issued within the last 24 hours, and that the had no way of procuring attendance.

Bishop Murray announced court on the basis of the case, Henry D. Harlan, dean of the University of Mary, Charles Ingalls, Cleveland, held that the granting of a continuance was a matter within the discretion of the court and that therefore require the specification as to testimony as a groundwork for a final decision on the question.

"Did the Whale Swallow"
The original request for a continuance was made for opinions from bishops of the church, including bishops of southern Brazil and western islands.

It embraced 227 questions from what changes had been church doctrine in the last to whether the whale swallow and cast him up on dry land later.

Predictions as to the time to take testimony in the case from thirty minutes to three hours.

BISHOP ON TRIAL ADMITS HE'S FOR A GENUINE SCRAP

Wants to Make Heresy
Cases Unpopular.

Cleveland, O., May 28.—[By the Associated Press.]—The trial of Rt. Rev. William M. Brown, who is facing a charge of Protestant Episcopal bishops' charges of teaching tenants not to pay beyond the technical stage. At one point it had progressed so far that Charles Dibble of Kalamazoo, Mich., church advocate, had made a brief opening statement of what he expected to show in the way of testimony. But before he could call his first witness the court recessed for luncheon and after that interval first a temporary indisposition of the defendant, then a fresh technical bombardment by his attorneys, halted progress.

Earlier in the day three motions and a demurrer by the defense had been overruled. Tonight the case is awaiting decision of a motion for indefinite continuance, based upon the defendant's desire to collect depositions from all bishops of the church. At the start of the afternoon session, Joseph W. Sharts, Dayton, attorney for the bishop, announced his client had suffered reaction from heart stimulants, and a two hours recess was ordered.

Bishop Brown had recovered sufficiently to attend court when it resumed and his counsel presented the motion for indefinite continuance.

Alleges Handicap for Defense.
This recited that a request had been made on Bishop Murray of Maryland, president of the court, a month before the trial began, for the appointment of commissioners to take depositions from defense witnesses for whom summons had been issued without effect. It added that all the witnesses resided outside of Ohio and that the defense had no way of procuring their attendance.

Bishop Murray announced that the court, on the advice of the lay assessors, Henry D. Harlan, dean of law at the University of Maryland, and Charles Inglis, Cleveland attorney, held that the granting of a continuance was a matter within the discretion of the court and that therefore it might require the specification as to expected testimony as a groundwork for its ultimate decision on the question.

"Did the Whale Swallow Jonah?"
The original request for depositions was made for opinions from every bishop of the church, including the bishops of southern Brazil and the Hawaiian Islands.

It embraced 327 questions ranging from what changes had been made in church doctrine in the last 300 years to whether the whale swallowed Jonah and cast him up on dry land three days later.

Predictions as to the time necessary to take testimony in the case ranged from thirty minutes to three hours.

Local Agency's Bonus
Blanks Not Acceptable
One agency in Chicago has got out a supply of bonus application blanks of its own printing, and has been filling these up for world war veterans seeking the adjusted compensation under the new United States bonus law.

This local enterprise has proved to be premature. When a batch of these application blanks, filled in by ex-soldiers, was received yesterday by the war department in Washington, Adj. Gen. Robert Davis promptly wired back that such applications could not be accepted and that men would have to make new applications when government printed blanks are distributed.

Only government blanks can be used. It is expected they will be available about June 6 or 10.

When the government's blanks are issued, between June 6 and June 10, The Tribune will have them as soon as any one, and they will be available at the Public Service Bureau, 11 South Dearborn street.

BRITAIN MAY END ADVERTISED RUM SMUGGLER DEALS

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
LONDON, May 28.—Prime Minister MacDonald told the house of commons this afternoon he would be very glad to do anything possible to put a stop to advertisements soliciting financial help for smuggling liquor into the United States, which he characterized as a disgraceful business. He declared he would have the law officers look into the matter. This clearly refers to Sir Broderick Hartwell, the bootlegging baronet who is advertising for money to finance a new rum running expedition, promising 25 per cent profit in sixty days.

FOSDICK GAINS A "DRAW," BUT DR. MERRILL LOSES

Presbyterians Seek New Yorker as Member.

BY THE REV. W. B. NORTON

Grand Rapids, Mich., May 28.—[Special.]—Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick must either join the Presbyterian church or give up the pastorate of the First Presbyterian church, New York, according to the decision reached today at the Presbyterian general assembly after an afternoon spent in heated debate with the general assembly sitting as a court.

Preceding the decision on Dr. Fosdick, the fundamentalists forced out from the board of foreign missions the Rev. William P. Merrill, pastor of the Brick Presbyterian church, New York City, and formerly pastor of the old Sixth Presbyterian church of Chicago.

Chicagoans Defend Merrill.
Dr. Merrill has been for twelve years a member of the board and one of the most conspicuous leaders in foreign missionary work and denominational finances. He was voted out on the ground of his doctrinal position which, it was alleged, was disturbing the peace and confidence of the church.

Among Dr. Merrill's champions were Dr. John Timothy Stone and Dr. Asa

J. Ferry of Chicago.
The vote against Dr. Merrill was 446 to 374. Dr. John P. Carson of Brooklyn, a fundamentalist leader, was elected in this place.

No Better Than a "Draw."
The Fosdick decision, while claimed by Dr. Mark A. Matthews of Seattle as a fundamentalist victory, was considered by the leaders of the opposite party as a victory for liberalism.

It may therefore be considered that while the fundamentalists won a victory in forcing Dr. Merrill out of the foreign board, liberals and the militant peace-makers won a victory in preventing a review of the case and in killing the program of the fundamentalists for an ousted instant of Fosdick.

No criticism of Dr. Fosdick's liberal theology was embodied in the report or in any of the speeches, the point of attack being the anomaly of having a Baptist minister permanently preaching in a Presbyterian church.

The general assembly adjourned tonight to meet next year in Columbus, O.

FIX YOUR PRICE," CITY SAYS TO TRACTION MEN

Another step in the city administration's plan for a unified surface, elevated, and subway transportation system, municipally owned and operated, may be taken next Tuesday. It was indicated yesterday. Owners of the elevated lines will be asked to name the prices and conditions under which they will sell their properties to the city.

Several months of conferences between Mayor Dever, his advisers, and the surface lines' owners culminated Tuesday when it was practically agreed that a plan under which the city would take over the street car properties upon payment of their capital account value—$162,500,000—will be submitted to the council.

While they have been present at all of the parties, neither Samuel Insull, chairman of the elevated railroad directorate, nor his chief counsel, Patrick J. Lucey, have taken any part in the discussion. It was agreed that a definite understanding should be reached with the surface lines' owners before negotiations for the purchase of the elevated lines were undertaken.

Proposals Made by Companies.

Throughout his conference with the street car operators and security holders the mayor has indicated that the elevated lines' owners have expressed a willingness to sell their properties to the city for a "fair price." This price, it is said, borders on $28,000,000.

The surface lines purchase proposal which will probably be given the council before its summer recess provides that the city may buy the lines by issuing to their owners $162,500,000 worth of Schwartz utility certificates and receiving in return all of the company's assets. These assets include $18,000,000 in renewal, depreciation, and damage suit guarantee funds held in cash by the companies by the lines, about $2,000,000 worth of real estate, and $6,000,000 worth of recently purchased or ordered equipment.

Alternative Proposal Made.

An alternative proposal is that the city may issue only $121,500,000 worth of certificates and allow the companies to retain the special funds, real estate, and new equipment.

Two young men, posing as customers, saved the Polley shoe company's store at 1341 Milwaukee avenue last night, and after robbing Bennett Wolfe, 1508 South Sawyer avenue, the clerk, of his watch and $200, stole $157.50 from the till and escaped.

DRYS IN HOUSE START QUIZ INTO LIQUOR TRAFFIC

Washington, D. C., May 28.—A brand new congressional investigation, directed at prohibition enforcement, was determined upon today by the house alcoholic liquor traffic committee, which had not previously held a meeting in five years.

Acting under its general authority the committee designated a subcommittee with instructions to go into all phases of the liquor law situation, including rum smuggling and charges of abuse of the permit system. Information is to be obtained as to the extent of liquor smuggling, the failure of officials to enforce the law, the decrease or increase in drunkenness, the permit system, the operation of breweries and alcohol denaturing plants, and the probable effect of modification of the prohibition law.

Wanted... a leader

Fortunate, always, in war, as each armed crisis has arisen this country has found leaders ready to accept their responsibilities. But in peace the nation has, almost for a generation, lacked such intelligent natural leadership as our fathers knew. The voice of the American people is too seldom heard nowadays.

Whereas self-anointed leaders with a gift of glib speech, the assurance of ignorance and a pet "ism" arise and lead blind followers where they will. The screaming and the squealing of organized minorities seeking wrong legislation, in curtailment of liberty, and calling upon bigotry, intolerance and other forms of ignorance that would divide our nation, are a poor substitute for expression of American citizenship.

Whether or not you "care for parades," turn out tomorrow and bare your head as the flag goes by. Let all, who may, learn that while we are a peace-loving nation we are not a nation of pacifists. And should you find it in your heart to say a silent prayer for the men and boys who bore the brunt of battle and then passed on—who knows—who knows?

POLITICIANS SEE BOND ISSUES AS WINNERS JUNE 2

Look for Normal Turnout of Voters.

Message of the south park, Roosevelt and Water street improvement bond issues in the judicial election next Monday was forecast in all political camps yesterday. Little opinion to either proposition has developed publicly and however light the vote may be, both bond issues receive majorities, the leaders of the Republican and Democratic workers are instructed in resolutions passed at the respective committee meetings today to work for both propositions at the same time they boost their bench candidates.

Several Republican factional groups have buried their hatchets for judicial campaign and all are working for the ticket headed by Superior Judge Frederic H. De Young, nominee of the Supreme court.

Look for Normal Vote.
The Barrett-Crowe-Brundage wing of the hotel where instructions to support the bond issues will be given. The first of these last meetings of the committee is to stimulate public interest in the election.

While leaders predict approval for bond issues they seem to be of the opinion that submission of the proposals will bring out few additional voters other than those who will go to the polls anyway to vote the bench candidates. This, they will be true particularly of the $500,000 Water street bond issue and $1,000,000 for completing the Roosevelt road improvement, in which cases the vote is city wide.

Fine Arts Project Up.
Submission of the $5,000,000 bond issue for restoring the Fine Arts building in Jackson park probably will increase the vote on the south side, only residents of the south park district may vote on this proposal. In this territory also comes the $1,000,000 bond issue for South Park avenue improvements.

Judge Charles M. Foell yesterday implemented his temporary injunction restraining election officials from spending any extra money by holding a special election to fill vacancies on the Circuit and Superior court benches. The special election will be held with the Democratic having the only candidates—Frank D. Comerford and John Kelly. Election officials will appeal to the supreme court for a hearing next October and a final decision on the legality of the special election.

Attacks Union League in

Financing of the special graft grand jury by private funds supplied by the Union League club was attacked as a "crime" yesterday by Patrick H. O'Donnell, attorney for Michael J. Faherty, in asking quashing of an indictment. It names Faherty and five others in an alleged grab of city funds by the charging of exorbitant real estate fees.

GIRL BANK BANDIT TELLS HOW PALE THE CASHIER GOT

She Had 2 Guns and the Baby to Watch.

Peoria, Ill., May 28.—In a cell in the Fulton county jail at Lewistown, Norma Anderson, 18, her eyes flashing as she recalled the thrilling incidents of her adventures today, told how she held up a bank single handed at Farmington yesterday afternoon.

"I'm not afraid of anybody or anything," she began. "I can't tell you anything, but I'll try to answer any questions you ask me."

"My parents went to the home of my aunt yesterday morning, and everything seemed to fit in with my plans," she said. "I called Farmington for a taxicab, and Dave Settles, an old schoolmate, came after me. I told him to drive me and the baby to Farmington, and when we arrived at the bank he parked his car on a side street and I took Jackie into the bank with me. As I entered I stopped to put a handkerchief over my face and the baby walked on ahead. I had a pistol in each hand as I walked up to the cashier.

"Stick 'em up," I told him, and he did. "Now don't get nervous and shoot anybody," he said, and he turned pale. I guess I was just a little nervous, and he noticed it. I told him to just put the money in the paper sack I held up for him, and he filled it with paper bills.

"I told the baby to go on ahead of me and we went out to 'where Dave was waiting with the taxi. A bell rang—I guess it was the burglar alarm—and Dave said, 'I want to go and see where the fire is.'"

"No you won't! I'm in a hurry," I told him. "Drive me to Hanna City."

"We went to the home of Mrs. Manual, who used to be my friend—but maybe she won't be any more."

"We were sitting in her home talking when an officer came in and said he wanted me. He told Mrs. Manual what he wanted me for, and searched the house for the money. He found it all upstairs and took me back to Farmington. I got a little nervous then."

George Hodson, 22, and Henry Jennings, 18, both of Farmington, are being sought as accomplices of the girl. She waived examination at a preliminary hearing today and her bond was set at $1,000. She said she would not try to raise it.

CAN'T EXPLAIN BANK DEPOSITS WHEN ACCUSED

Peter S. Lynch, former secretary of the police pension board, at a salary of $4,800 a year, made two deposits in June, 1922, of $1,200 and $1,000, and was at a loss yesterday to explain to Judge Henry Horner how he got the money.

Lynch has been accused by Attorney Alanson C. Noble of taking two-thirds of a $3,000 fund, interest on a pension which should have been paid to the two orphan children of a police operator.

It was in June, 1922, when the interest money was paid, and Noble, who acted as the children's attorney, has testified he took one-third, the remainder being pocketed by Lynch. "I don't remember those deposits at all," Lynch testified. He previously denied he had taken the interest money.

Judge Horner continued the case until June 3. Miss Margaret Lynch, 4087 Drake avenue, guardian of the two children, said not a penny of the interest money was received by her wards.

Do You Want the Best Permanent Hair Wave?

Ask for the Nestle LANOIL Method

"LANOIL," the latest Nestle improvement in the Permanent Waving Process, means a revolution in this science.

No more borax-pads, paper tubes, or lengthy heating. The heat needed for "LANOIL" Permanent Waving is less than 20% of that used by some other methods. And even shampooing before or after is no longer necessary.

Many hairdressers here and in Europe declare that the Nestle "LANOIL" Process with the 1924 Improvements does away with the last objectionable features in Permanent Hair-Waving.

NATIONALIST IN GERMAN SOUGHT BY

Insists on Acceptance
Dawes Plan

BY GEORGE SEL

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Columnist)

BERLIN, May 28.—With all its victorious in the election of the new Reich President, Chancellor Marx today opined that the purpose of the nationalist-people's party-Cabinet. Herr Marx, nationalist vice president and the foreign minister, they would agree to vote, the Dawes plan.

Official circles are optimistic believing the deal will go through a government which would accept the Dawes report, a three-fourths majority in the Reichstag will be formed. According to the nationalists of the Reichstag would direct foreign policy in Germany, including the military and industrial legislation.

In return for giving up the right to demand the return of the former kaiser's flag and restore the kaiser's banner.

Ludendorffers Hunt for Having drunk themselves per cent beer, Gen. Ludendorff entered the Reichstag fight, and just before Ludendorff was elected president of the Reichstag, the nationalists tried to free for all with communists out the second day's session, yelled, outwitted, and outcommunists, thereby proving own satisfaction that the Reichstag rather than Moscow would offer the salvation of the Reich. Herr Wallat defeated Gen. Loeb, a Social Democrat, Ludendorff's Volkische party, the Nationalists, giving 232 votes to Herr Loeb's Wallat was minister of the Reich, the former kaiser's last cabinet.

Reds Rush at Gen.

The rumpus occurred at table when Gen. Ludendorff to deposit a ballot in one of the boxes which two war veterans who were dressed in uniform, as Gen. Ludendorff as communists, who were yelling "murderer" at him, rushed

LINK DAUGHERTY TO ODD REFUND OF GERMAN CASH

$8,000,000 Is Returned;
Who Got $500,000?

BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.
Washington, D. C., May 28.—(Special.)—How a German concern changed the spelling of its name from German to French and thus got Harry M. Daugherty to authorize return of $8,000,000 out of $8,500,000 netted from sale of its American plants during the war was related today before the Daugherty investigating committee.

What became of the $500,000 balance will be gone into later with promises from Chairman Brookhart that it now "is in this country, in the hands of Americans who had much to do with the deal."

Former Custodian Testifies.
Francis P. Garvin, alien property custodian just prior to the Harding administration, was the chief witness, although the story starts with the previous administration, when A. Mitchell Palmer was attorney general under Woodrow Wilson. The American Metals company, Ltd., was seized by Palmer and investigation by both Palmer and Garvin showed 49 per cent of its stock German owned.

When Garvin told how he ordered the 49 per cent sold, it netted $8,500,000 plus about $500,000 in accrued dividends. The money was put into the United States treasury. This sale was about July, 1918.

In 1922, there suddenly appeared a claim from the Societe Suisse Four Valeur de Metaux, claiming to be a neutral Swiss metal concern and claiming to own the 49 per cent of stock that had been sold as German owned. In forty-eight hours, it developed, this claim was sent from Allen Property Custodian Miller to Attorney General Daugherty, the $8,000,000 refunded, and the $500,000 kept.

Two Names, but Same Firm.
"During the three years between the sale and the time you left office there was never any claim that this stock was Swiss, or neutral owned, or that it was other than German-owned," asked Senator Wheeler of Mr. Garvin.

To Kneel, Wheeler said:
"Do your reports show that the Metallgesellschaft and the Societe Suisse Four Valeur de Metaux are of the same ownership?"

"Yes, it is simply a case of French spelling in one case and German in the other."

PLAN RECEPTION FOR MAJ. MARTIN OF WORLD FLIGHT

Maj. Frederick L. Martin will arrive in Chicago, at the Chicago and North-western railroad station, at 9:30 o'clock tomorrow morning. He will be accompanied by a reception committee, composed of members of the Aero Club of Illinois, the Adventurers' club and the Chicago Association of Commerce, which left here yesterday in a special car to meet the aviator in St. Paul, Minn.

During his brief visit—24 hours—in Chicago Maj. Martin will be the guest of the Adventurers' club, of which he is a member. Tomorrow night a banquet and ball will be given in his honor by the three clubs at the Hotel La Salle.

Maj. Martin, who for two years was commanding officer of Chanute field, Rantoul, is expected to tell the real story of the first leg of the world tour, and will explain in detail the crash that nearly cost his life, wrecked his plane, and put him afoot in a wilderness. Sergeant Alva G. Harvey, mechanic for Maj. Martin, is expected to arrive in Chicago some time this evening.

HYDRO-ELECTRIC EXPERT TO SPEAK.
J. D. Ross, superintendent of the Seattle hydro-electric system and builder of the first public supply power system in this country, will speak tonight at a special dinner of the Public Ownership league in the City Hall Square building. He is returning from Washington, where he was called to testify before a senatorial committee.

MAYOR SIGNS FIRE ORDINANCE FOR REVISION

Reorganization of the fire department was set in motion yesterday when Mayor Dwyer signed the revision ordinance recently passed by the city council, vesting complete authority in a civilian commissioner. The nomination of one of three men now under consideration, for the commissionership, will be submitted to the council at its next meeting, the mayor promised.

Meanwhile John C. Plant, chief engineer of the fire prevention bureau, appointed to fill the place temporarily after John F. Cullerton, the former commissioner was ousted on Monday, will continue to act.

There is no substitute for Victor products

No other records present such a quality or variety of musical entertainment as the Victor Records contained in the Victor Record Catalogs and in the new lists issued every week. No other talking-machine attains such perfection of reproduction as the Victrola; and the range of sizes, designs and prices provides a style for every home. As no other talking-machines or records equal Victor products individually, it is apparent that no other combination than Victor Records and the Victrola used together can produce the best results.

Red Seal Records

Hungarian Dance No. 4, in B Minor Cecilia Hansen 6447 $2.00

Rondino (Victrola) Cecilia Hansen 6448 $2.00

First Victor Record by this celebrated young violinist who has gained the recognition her splendid powers deserve. A beautiful tone, a splendid technique, an amazing breadth of style—all are revealed in this record.

A Brown Bird Singing (Barlow-Wood) Reinald Werrenrath 984 1.50

Sittin' Thinkin' (Tempest-Fisher) Reinald Werrenrath 984 1.50

A charming pastoral ballad, sung with the utmost ease and naturalness; and a "Shepherd's song," having a somewhat intricate melody. Sung by this famous baritone with great enunciation and skill. Victor recording does full justice to the artist's interpretations.

Light Vocal Selections

Love Makes the World a Merry-Go-Round Sir Harry Lauder 55222 1.50

I Like My Old Home Town Sir Harry Lauder 55222 1.50

The first of a song of good humor, wholesome and tonic as the wind off the Scotch heather. The other is almost in military style, so far as its music goes. Both are heartening songs and the records are Sir Harry out and out.

A Little Bit o' Honey Olive Kline 45412 1.00

Sonny Boy Olive Kline 45412 1.00

Two songs, with softly "fitching" cradle-rhythms, for the heart of motherhood. The voice in one of these rare ones which we are always glad to hear, and the record is a splendid example of Victor recording.

When Love Comes Stealing Lewis James 19326 .75

I'm Waiting for Ships That Never Come In Bruce Wallace 19326 .75

Popular songs of love and human experience. The first is in waltz time and is one of the finest records James ever made. The second is somewhat in fox trot style and combines admirably with the first number.

Melodious Instrumental

Sunshine Capers Piano Solo Roy Barry 19320 .75

Rufenreddy Piano Solo Roy Barry 19320 .75

Two piano numbers of Barry's own composing. You may dance to them, for they are in excellent fox trot rhythms. But you must not consider them dance records alone, for they are examples of American popular piano music, delightful to hear.

Dance Records

The Little Wooden Whistle Wouldn't S. S. Leviathan Orchestra 19323 .75

Whistle-Fox Trot with vocal refrain Arabianna-Fox Trot 19323 .75

A pair of fox trots of far more than ordinary melodic interest, the first with a vocal refrain by Billy Murray. "Arabianna" is in true oriental style. Records par excellence from the dancer's viewpoint.

Oriental Love Dreams—Fox Trot with vocal refrain Coon-Sanders Original 19325 .75

My Daddy's Dreamtime Lullaby-Fox Trot with vocal refrain 19325 .75

Lively fox trots. The first number though snappy in style, has some subdued saxophone melodies. The second syncopates remotely on Schumann's "Traumerei" and "In the Gloaming." The records clearly show why this organization has made such a hit with the dance fans.

Wait'll You See My Gal—Fox Trot The Benson Orchestra of Chicago 19327 .75

Eileen—Fox Trot Jean Goldkette and His Orchestra 19327 .75

The first number features the xylophone in a light graceful dance. "Eileen" is melodious and introduces "The Minstrel Boy." Both orchestras are favorites with dance lovers and these records will win them new adherents.

RUSSIANS KILL POLISH TROOPS IN VILNA BATTLE

Scent Moscow Intrigue
Behind Uprising.

BY DONALD DAY.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
[Copyright: 1924: By The Chicago Tribune.]
RIGA, Latvia, May 28.—An armed band of 300 White Russians fought Polish troops in the Vilna district, according to a dispatch from Kovno. The conflict, which occurred near the Lithuanian border, resulted in the death of eighteen Poles, while twenty were severely wounded. The losses of the White Russians were not learned. Polish officials here admit the Polish government has been anxiously watching the Vilna region for several months, having discovered that a large number of White Russian communists were organizing a rebellion. After the arrest of a number of communists M. Tchitcherine, foreign minister of Russia, sent a note to Warsaw protesting against alleged Polish violations of the Riga treaty. Poland's sharp answer provoked a rather belligerent note from M. Tchitcherine, who, according to an official of the soviet telegraph agency, claims Russia has the right under the Riga treaty to protect the White Russians, Ukrainians, Jews, and other Polish minorities. The second Russian note was immediately followed by the Vilna uprising. The Lithuanian government, which has not yet recognized the decision of the league of nations giving the Vilna territory to Poland, is also reported to have aided the White Russian malcontents.

Arrest 1,400 Moscow Students.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
BERLIN, May 28.—About 1,400 Russian students have been arrested in Moscow by order of the cheka after a regular man hunt organized by the terrorist organization. They were taken on the streets and in their homes, and were driven to jails. Later they were herded into special trains which carried them back to the points in the interior from which they came to Moscow for an education. M. Sklanski, Leon Trotsky's best friend and acting commissary of war during the latter's "vacation" in south Russia, has been arrested on a charge of graft. M. Sklanski was responsible for the purchase of leather goods for the Red army and is accused of having knowingly provided the Red army with bad leather while he sold the good leather to business men.

Still Hope for Russian Treaty.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
LONDON, May 28.—The British government does not consider that the Anglo-Russian conference reached anything like a breakdown because of yesterday's frank speaking. It is hoped now that the soviets definitely know that Britain does not intend either to cancel debts or grant a loan as a prerequisite to a treaty, some specific progress can be made. One of the most important incidents now affecting the details of the conference is the case of the Russian named Jacobson, condemned to death by the bolsheviks for giving the Speakeasy Mining company, a British firm, information on the present production of its former properties, which Russia has nationalized. The Russians intend to shoot the alleged spy, unless Prime Minister MacDonald's intervention prevents it. Jacobson was a soviet official and gave the information on the present production of confiscated property in a private letter to a friend in London.

A WIZARD'S TALE OF KLAN POLITICS AND U. S. SENATE

Klux Trick Got Mayfield Seat, Clark Says.

BY DONALD EWING.

Washington, D. C., May 22.—(Special.)—The Ku Klux Klan got an airing today before the senate committee deciding whether Earle Mayfield, a legally elected senator from Texas,

Edward Young Clark, once imperial wizard of the Klan and later imperial kliff, came the story that the Klan "put Mayfield over."

"We did some housecleaning in Texas," said Clark, adjusting the black bow tie and black rimmed glasses that matched his bushy black pompadour. "We were a bit afraid to come right out with a Klan candidate—afraid we couldn't win. So we picked an old line politician, a smart fellow and a klanman, and had him run in the primary against Mayfield. He stumped the state saying 'come on, boys, vote for me! I'm for the K. K. K.'"

How Well It Worked.

"The anti-klan vote rushed away from him to Mayfield anyhow. That made the primary easy."

The election was, too, it seems. The strategy gained for Mayfield by the tactics of his primary opponent—who happened to be the dignified Judge Robert L. Henry—had its reflection in the election itself, so that Mayfield today sits in the United States senate.

There was nothing crooked, Clark insists—just legitimate strength of a legitimate organization owing to a legitimate candidate. And as he talked, Clark revealed the story of his own "numerous arrests"—for such "trivial" matters as white slavery and using the mails to defraud—and of how the Klan eventually kicked him out.

It was the little white slave matter, which resulted in the Texas federal charge, that had hitherto prevented the former wizard from appearing before the committee. But all objections to his evidence were removed today at the request of Senator Mayfield, whose attorneys had previously contended his conviction made him incompetent as a witness.

"When I was in the palace," Clark

NEW CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT PLAN REPORTED TO SENATE

Washington, D. C., May 22.—(Special.)—The senate judiciary committee reported favorably today the Wade resolution proposing a constitutional amendment changing the system of adopting amendments to the constitution in order to insure an adequate expression of popular opinion.

A somewhat similar resolution several months ago was sent back to the committee after being debated on the floor of the senate.

The proposed constitutional change provides that amendments proposed by congress shall be valid "when ratified by three-fourths of the several states, either through their conventions elected by the people for that purpose, or through the direct vote of their people at elections to be held under the authority of the respective states, reserving also the option of ratification, and the authentication of the action, taken; and until three-fourths of the states shall have ratified or more than one-fourth of the states shall have rejected a proposed amendment, any state may by the same mode selected change its vote."

If at any time more than one-fourth of the states shall reject the proposed amendment, said rejection shall be final.

said, referring to the imperial palace at Atlanta, which he once occupied, "every one there knew the Klan was seeking to elect Mayfield."

"Just what did you do to elect him?" asked William McLean, Mayfield's attorney.

"Well, I didn't do anything personally. It was all left to Dr. H. W. Evans, then national organizer and now imperial wizard. Dr. Evans talked to me about the turbulent conditions in Texas and of how we must send funds there. That wasn't unusual. We sent funds to lots of states to help in elections. The state or ganizations spent them—we never knew just what the money was used for, except that it helped the Klan.

"Another time Evans told me he was sending men to Texas to attend to things. We sent men all around, you know. Investigators who worked secretly. Why we even sent commissioners around."

"You mean missionaries, don't you?" asked Senator King (Dem., Utah).

Trading Food for Votes.

"I mean missionaries. Men to feed the disheartened and empty stomachs. You can always talk to a man best after you feed him. I suppose they were missionaries, too."

Under McLean's cross examination, the names of Gov. Parker of Louisiana, who opened the Mer Rouge attack on the Klan, and R. B. Creager, Republican national committeeman from Texas, were mentioned.

"Didn't you tell Parker and Creager that if they could get you off on your white slavery indictment in Texas you'd come here and testify?" McLean asked.

"I did not," answered Clark.

As the cross questioning continued, Clark complained to Chairman Spencer (Rep., Mo.).

"I want to go home to my music. I got a piano, a trap drum, a banjo and a phonograph at home and I sure miss 'em. I generally bring the phonograph with me, but I was too nervous this time."

Then he swung back to the Klan.

"Don't let anyone tell you it isn't in politics," he ended. Every man, every cent, every resource it has is swung to politics, not in Texas alone, but everywhere."

EVERY WEEK 7,000 TRIBUNE READERS USE THE PUBLIC SERVICE BUREAU

YEARS ago the idea of service to the public had not occurred to newspapers. It came only as the newspaper grew in prestige and created confidence in its reliability and accuracy.

THE DEMANDS of Tribune readers, backed up by this confidence, led to the establishment of the Public Service Bureau at 11 South Dearborn street, and during 1923 service was given to more than 300,000 persons. The service which now covers so broad a field began when people turned to The Tribune to get reliable information on all subjects from the prospects for a shoe store in the Belgian Congo to the mean temperature for May at the north pole.

More than 56,000 asked for information about motor subjects. Ex-service men, numbering 100,000, received help and information regarding the bonus. Nearly 30,000 sought travel information, and 10,000 brought in news items and stories. Thousands of others received service in some of the following ways:

Baseball schedules
Clothing patterns
Health and beauty leaflets
Files used
Fishing licenses

Football schedules
Guide to Chicago
Good Fellows Income Tax

RAILWAY LABOR CHIEFS SCORN BOARD SUMMONS

Stone and Robertson Refuse to Appear.

Warren S. Stone, grand chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, and D. B. Robertson, head of the 100,000 men's organization, notified the United States railroad labor board yesterday they would not appear before that tribunal today in a dispute involving oth unions and an eastern railroad. In reply, the board notified the brotherhood chiefs that such action would be a direct violation of the law.

The dispute has its origin in the refusal of the Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburgh railway to grant a 5 per cent wage increase to its engineers and firemen. Several months ago the eastern road entered into a pact to deal collectively with the brotherhoods of engineers and firemen. It was called the New York Central wage settlement.

WARREN S. STONE

Road Withdraws from Pact.

Originally the Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburgh road participated in the negotiations, but shortly before the settlement was to have been made, it withdrew and then refused to grant the wage boost agreed upon.

A strike vote was then taken by the engine service crews.

The road then asked the labor board to assume jurisdiction and prevent a traffic tieup. The brotherhood leaders were notified to appear before the board today.

Labor Chiefs Refuse.

Stone and Robertson in a joint message informed the federal rail adjustment board that:

"We propose to utilize every available means to prevent an interruption of interstate commerce. However, we deny the authority, or propriety of the action, of the railroad labor board to interfere with the efforts of the employees' representatives to reach a settlement of the dispute through an agreement, or through arbitration in event an agreement through negotiation can not be obtained. The labor board through its present composition, and through prejudices and antagonism to employees' representatives and policies of their organizations, has disqualified itself from acting as an impartial tribunal. The United States Supreme court has held that decisions of the board are not binding and many railroads have ignored them. For these reasons we respectfully decline to attend the hearing of the board scheduled for May 29."

May Subpoena Leaders.

In its reply the board stated that with but one exception no labor organization has refused heretofore to submit its case for adjustment before taking arbitrary action. It points out that the transportation act makes this mandatory, and if the brotherhood chiefs fail to present themselves for the hearing they will have violated the law. It was asserted last night that the next move of the railroad labor board will be to subpoena the recalcitrant labor leaders.

Regarding the dispute between the engineers and firemen and western roads, the board has postponed the hearing from June 3 until June 20. Stone and Robertson have indicated they will not appear at the hearing.

What To Do! What To Serve!

The new Amaizo folder "A Mah Jong Party" tells you just how to plan a really smart Mah Jong party. It advises you about such things as decorations and prizes. It suggests menus and gives recipes for special dishes.

A copy of the MAH JONG FOLDER will be sent you free on receipt of the coupon at the bottom of this page. Many of the suggestions as well as the menus and recipes will be found invaluable in imparting the popular Chinese touch to any and all kinds of parties.

Do not fail to send for your copy!

For instance, there are the Mah Jong cakes illustrated above. The recipe for them is in the folder, and they are just as attractive and clever as they are delicious. Incidentally, these cakes are a sample of the unusually delectable foods it is so easy to make with Amaizo, the Oil which is pressed from the hearts of golden corn.

The ease with which this liquid shortening is measured, the rapidity with which it heats, the fact that it does not curd in mayonnaise, these are a few of the ways in which Amaizo speeds up food preparation.

Eleven Reasons Why You Should Use

AMAIZO OIL

1. Fries beautifully, thoroughly, quickly.
2. Does not smoke at cooking temperature.
3. Does not carry the flavor of one food to another, so can be used over and over.
4. Heats quickly.
5. Measures easily and accurately.
6. Blends rapidly with other ingredients.
7. Necessitates no melting.
8. Makes delicate, delicious cakes—is an ideal shortening.
9. Imparts no characteristic flavor to the foods.
10. Does not curd in mayonnaise.
11. Its can is dustless, rustless, easy to handle and store.

Tomato Surprise!

The FRENCH'S MUSTARD Way

PEEL and cut center out of several large firm tomatoes. Put them in cool place. Slice some half-lengths and scoop out the centers. Mix with French's Mustard and fill centers of tomatoes. Bake a drawing after the recipe on bottle of French's Mustard and put a tablespoonful on top of each tomato. Serve on lettuce leaves.

Delicious ways to make new Dishes

EVEN experienced home cooks find that FRENCH'S MUSTARD makes sauces, salads and savories much more delicious and tempting. This richer, creamier Mustard also adds zest to sandwich fillings and cold meats.

Use it in your cooking as well—just as you do spices, or other seasonings. FRENCH'S MUSTARD imparts new appeal to even the plainest of foods, because no other mustard has such flavor. Follow the recipe printed here and notice the difference yourself.

Ask your Grocer for FRENCH'S MUSTARD today. Packed in the sanitary carton with each jar and its handy wooden paddle is a Recipe Leaflet containing other suggestions for varying your menus and making each meal more tasty. You'll want to try them all.

"Smallpox is Merely a Flea Bite Beside 'Social' Diseases"

Those are the words of Dr. Royal C. Copeland, former Commissioner of Health of New York City and now U. S. Senator from New York, who has come out with the plain truth about the menace of venereal infections.

If all who have the so-called "social" diseases could only realize how serious either form of these infections is, they would not wait an hour to seek a cure. They would have too much fear of the results to take the chance involved in any delay. As it is, however, we hear the common expression, "No worse than a bad cold," applied to one of these diseases and many a victim, deceived by this false assurance, has postponed taking effective treatment until his health was permanently wrecked.

Then we often hear of the other form of "social" disease, that—"It can't be cured;" and many who have contracted this infection, accepting this statement as a fact, give up hope, don't take proper treatment and suffer the dreadful consequences of neglect.

The fact is that while these diseases are vastly more destructive to health and life than smallpox, consumption, cancer or any other disease—and that if allowed to go on unchecked, they ravage the constitution, wreck the vital forces and often make helpless invalids of the victims they do not kill—they can be cured.

It is failure to take treatment that is sending so many people to the human scrap heap. Prompt and proper medical attention would have saved hundreds of thousands from locomotor ataxia, paralysis, insanity, blindness, surgical operations, genito-urinary diseases, rheumatism and death. It would have saved not only the original victims but multitudes of others who contracted the diseases from them innocently—for these infections are passed on not only by personal contact but by drinking cups, towels and other articles in common use.

If you have reason to believe that you have been exposed or have become venereally infected at least obtain an examination by a physician. Find out just what the trouble is and if necessary begin proper treatment—then keep the treatment up until your doctor assures you that the disease has been banished. To try some "patent" medicine or somebody else's prescription in an attempt to "cure yourself" is folly. Only a trained physician can effect a cure of venereal disease.

The Public Health Institute was organized nearly four years ago to give the benefit of modern medical methods to people needing treatment for venereal diseases. During this time it has restored normal health to thousands—many of whom were people who had become infected innocently.

Its services are open to all who need treatment for these afflictions, and as it was organized not for profit, the fees are small and the same to everybody. No patient pays more than another for the same service.

If you need such service as the Institute offers, don't hesitate to come for a diagnosis. Our physicians will tell you the facts about your case and then you can decide what to do. Early action in finding out just what your disease is and in taking treatment, if necessary, may save months or years of suffering and perhaps permanent disability.

Women and Children

A special department for women and children, with women assisting as nurses and attendants, is located at 72 East Randolph Street. Every facility is provided here for effective treatment and the utmost privacy with the highest degree of comfort is assured.

With such service as this available, no one who needs treatment should delay. "Social" diseases can be cured.

By IRVING VAUGHAN.

A four run handicap in the opening inning wasn't sufficient to put a damper on Killefer's Cubs yesterday. They fell into that unhappy predicament mainly because of their own flat footedness, but they bounced right back as though nothing had happened and eventually beat the Pirates, 9 to 6.

About the only thing the Buccaners did was to start well and finish well. In the seven intervening rounds, however, they could promote nothing in their own behalf because of the tantalizing twirling of Vic Aldridge. Meanwhile the Cubs were slapping the daylights out of three hostile hurlers who happened to be the veteran Wilbur Cooper and rookies Delmar Lundgren and Emil Yde.

Cooper Starts Fireworks.

Cooper was the starter and the Bruins lost no time making good on the argument that a southpaw can't feel 'em. They banged out three in their half, and came back with an equal number in the third, during which Cooper had to fade out and was tapered off with another bunch of three in the fifth. In the latter assault both Lundgren and Yde got a touch of high life.

If the Cub defense hadn't been lucky in the first round the Pirates might have been held to a lone run that Wright dumped into the right field seats after two were out. Barnhart followed with a hit and Traynor bled to right. Instead of playing the latter for a single, Vogel foolishly tried a diving catch and the pill shot past for a triple, Barnhart scoring. A moment later Traynor and Marsville counted.

Aldridge in Moss.

In the second chapter Aldridge got into another mess because of his slow sliding, but a great catch by Grantham in short right field staved off runs. That play started Aldridge to work in earnest. He followed with six hits in the ninth. In the ninth the Pirates broke the charm, but the Bruins were so far in front that a couple of runs couldn't worry them.

Local Club Teams Leave for Olympics Track Trials

The powerful track and field teams of the I. A. C. and C. A. A. leave today for Ann Arbor, where they will compete in the midwest Olympic trials tomorrow and Saturday. Winners will automatically qualify for the final tests to be held in the Harvard stadium on June 13 and 14.

The Tri-Color club team will entrain at noon, as will some of the Cherry Circle performers. The bulk of the C. A. A. team, however, will not depart until midnight. Heats will be drawn tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock, and the afternoon program will start at 2 o'clock.

Both clubs will be represented by their star performers, most of whom are expected to make the American Olympic team. Joe Ray, Harold Osborne, Tom Lieb, Carl Anderson, Gus Pope, Eddie Kneave, Ray Watson, and Ray Baker are among some of the I. A. C. athletes expected to win first places, while Coach Darwent of the C. A. A. will rely upon Gordon McGinnis, Russell Wharton, Laddie Meyers, Hermansen, Hall, and Braden for first places.

The trials are open to all nonconferencing athletes of the section, and college performers who will not compete in any of the sectional intercollegiate, which are also tryouts for the final Olympic tests.

PREPS FLOCK HERE FOR STAGG CLASSIC

Candidates for national titles in high school track and field events began flocking to the University of Chicago yesterday in preparation for the country's classic prep tournament which will be held at Stagg field tomorrow and Saturday.

The closing of the lists yesterday found 836 men entered in the meet, 668 of whom are scheduled to compete in the high school division and the remainder in the academy section. The high school lads hail from 128 schools in twenty-six states, sixteen academies being represented in the meet.

CITY DADS WANT OLYMPIC GAMES HERE IN 1928

The Chicago city council yesterday unanimously adopted a resolution urging every possible encouragement be given the proposition of bringing the 1928 Olympic games to this city. At the time of the selection of the 1924 games it was announced the 1928 Olympic meet would be held in Amsterdam.

A second resolution calling upon citizens to raise $50,000 as Chicago's quota of expense, and $5,000 for expenses of Chicago's representatives to go to Paris and negotiate for the games, was referred to a finance committee for consideration.

STRAW DIFFERETH FROM STRAW

There's all the difference in the world between The Drake (handmade) and a machine made straw hat. In its looks when you buy it, and in the way it keeps its looks also. There's a natural bloom to the braid of a hat that the machine process kills, dead as a mackerel. This bloom is half the beauty of a straw hat. The other half is its style—here again the machine is fatal. Lastly and most important—it's the handwork on the leather band that makes the hat sit comfortably on your head. Get a good straw hat; it's a good investment.

BETTER WEATHER REPORTS EASE UP PRICES OF GRAIN

BY CHARLES MICHAELS

Wheat showed an easier tone with some bearish grain notes on further rains in Kansas which has now received sufficient moisture to put an end to the dry weather talk for a few days at least. However, there was a good deal of buying on the break, and a lack of aggressive selling, and the finish was at net losses of 1/4¢ to 1/2¢. Winnipeg showed surprising strength, closing unchanged to 1/2¢. Corn was 1/4¢ to 1/2¢, oats 1/4¢ to 1/2¢, and rye 1/4¢ to 1/2¢.

Millers after cash showed a little improvement with shipments of 90,000 bu. and charters were made for 50,000 bu. at 1/2¢ to 1/4¢. Crop reports from the southwest showed a little improvement, due to the rains in the south-west. Liverpool closed 1/4¢ higher. Some wheat was reported bought for July-August shipment and hedged by sales of futures. May finished at 1/2¢, July at 1/2¢ to 1/4¢, and September at 1/2¢ to 1/4¢.

Technical position of the corn market has been greatly weakened by the heavy covering by eastern shorts of late, and there was a lack of aggressive buying, while local sentiment was bearish. May closed at 77 1/2¢, July at 77 1/2¢ to 78 1/2¢, and September at 77 1/2¢ to 78 1/2¢, the finish being about the bottom.

Oats have small range. Trade in oats was not large and prices held within a range of 1/4¢ to 1/2¢, with the finish at the bottom. May being 45 1/2¢ to 46 1/2¢. Weather and crop reports were favorable. Available supplies decreased 43,000 bu. and are 3,115,000 bu. against 3,175,000 bu. last year.

Carriers were fair sellers of September-lard, presumably hedging against purchases from outside packing points. The market lacked aggressive support and the finish was at net losses of 1/4¢ to 1/2¢. Both lard and ribs, while prices were unchanged. Cash trade was only fair. Packing in the west for the summer season is complete by the first of June. Current-cash report, in 7,511,000 bu. against 10,111,000 bu. last year. Prices follow:

CASH GRAIN NEWS

There was a fair report of business in the cash grain market. Wheat was sold at 77 1/2¢ to 78 1/2¢, with the finish at 77 1/2¢. Corn was sold at 77 1/2¢ to 78 1/2¢, with the finish at 77 1/2¢. Oats were sold at 45 1/2¢ to 46 1/2¢, with the finish at 45 1/2¢. Rye was sold at 77 1/2¢ to 78 1/2¢, with the finish at 77 1/2¢. The market was generally quiet, with some buying on the part of the local trade. The weather was fair, and the crop reports were favorable. The grain market was expected to be quiet for some time.

FARM TROUBLES ARE CHARGED TO U. S. LAND POLICY

BY SCRUTATOR.

Whether you agree with the following or not, it is about time that somebody said it again, and the letter from which it is extracted comes from one whose main interests are in farming:

"The policy of the federal government and also of the state governments from the beginning has been to encourage the opening up and settling of more and more land—always more, regardless of the economic condition of the people already on the land, and regardless of whether there was a market at a decent price for the products of these new lands or not.

"The government has continued to pursue this policy even to the extent in recent times of taking millions of dollars raised from taxes out of the treasury and investing it in irrigating lands, for which, as a matter of fact, there was no demand, and which contributed to driving out of use other old settled lands at enormous sacrifice to the government.

"The President in a recent message recommends the further expansion of this policy by the deferring of a complete abatement of the claims of the government (and the taxpayers) against the people who have been deluded into going on this irrigated land. In other words, the government is going to keep in use lands that are not needed, and that assist in putting out of use other better lands near centers of population.

"I was brought up in northwestern Ohio on land as fertile as any. The whole face of the country has been brought to a high state of cultivation and improvement with fine buildings and fences, tillage, hard roads, etc., etc. The land came to be worth before the war $100 to $200 per acre. This spring probably 100 farms have gone out of use in my county and are lying untilled and untenanted.

"You have observed recently paragraphs in the newspaper regarding a proposal to build a dam in Boulder Canyon of the Colorado, for the purpose, primarily, of irrigating 2,000,000 acres of land—the dam to be built, of course, at the expense of the government, your expense and mine.

"Can the American farmer be brought to see what this sort of thing means and just a stop to it.

"More people cannot live and work on farms without producing more farm products. It is regarded as a calamity to the farmer that he is short of help, and doubtless it may be a calamity in individual cases, but it ought to be made clear that the farming industry as a whole should expand faster and not more, if there is to be a reduction in the volume of its output, which is the only thing that is certain to bring an increase in prices."

"There is another side, of course. Historically our interest was centered when we bought at all cost to settle the west. But the question now arises if we have not completed that phase. The possible national peril of an untended and a thinly populated Pacific front has practically been obliterated.

"But the menace of excessive urbanism in the eastern and central states will yet be dealt with.

"The census of 1910 revealed population losses in one or two of the most important commonwealths.

"Much of the excessive emphasis on developing waste lands in the west since 1890 was due to the 'back to the land' idea, but in practical operation it appears that such policies have placed a few people on remote lands, and probably taken many more off of lands near centers of population.

"An effort to secure the development of remote lands, we have insisted on freight rates so low as to impede our transportation structure. At the same time one of the beneficent results of higher rates since the war has been to stimulate farming in certain areas near great markets and protected from competition by high freight rates.

"Perhaps our land policy must now be thoroughly overhauled and redirected, as we have definitely entered upon a new national phase with the restrictions of immigration.

"Perhaps we will find the way out by beginning to plant trees with some of this energy and efficiency that we have hitherto shown in cutting them down.
